WHICH WARRANTIES APPLY TO YOUR PRODUCT?

TYPES OF WARRANTIES

EVOLT provides different types of warranties for Atom Products:

1. Atom Warranty	• The Atom Warranty is our standard warranty against defects and failures for Atom Products • It is available for all Atom Products that are purchased from EVOLT (or our authorised distributors) in Australia and New Zealand, including Atom Air sub-brands. • It is subject to all the terms, conditions and exclusions listed in this document • The Atom Warranty is in force retrospective from 1st July 2026 and commences on the dates listed in this document. 2. All warranty periods apply from date of purchase. Date of purchase means the date that you purchased the Atom Product from an EVOLT authorised wholesaler or retailer, unless marked otherwise.

B. ON-SITE WARRANTY

The On-Site Warranty is an enhanced warranty service arrangement available in Australia for eligible Atom and Atom

Air products, installed by appropriately licensed electricians.

Where applicable, the On-Site Warranty provides on-site service support for eligible products for a defined period, subject to the conditions of this warranty, including service availability within EVOLT's appointed service partner network.

The On-Site Warranty does not alter the underlying Atom Warranty, including warranty periods, exclusions, or limitations. Once any applicable on-site service period has expired, the product will continue to be covered under the standard return-to-base Atom Warranty for the remainder of the applicable warranty period.

The On-Site Warranty only applies where:

- You purchase an eligible product from EVOLT or our authorised distributors in Australia;
- The Atom Products are supplied to a licensed electrician in Australia; and
- The Atom Products are installed within Australia and is eligible for on-site service support under the service arrangements and network coverage in place at the time a warranty claim is lodged.

If Atom Products are installed in locations where on-site service is not included under the applicable On-Site Warranty service arrangements, on-site support may still be considered subject to eligibility, access, location, and acceptance of the warranty claim. In such circumstances, additional call-out fees and labour costs may apply.

The On-Site Warranty does not apply to services performed directly by EVOLT unless expressly agreed in writing.

The On-Site Warranty periods stated in this document do not extend or alter the standard Atom or Atom Air Warranty or a product's rated operational lifetime as specified by EVOLT or the manufacturer. Where applicable, the On-Site Warranty will apply first for the duration of the On-Site Warranty period. Upon expiry of the On-Site Warranty support period, any remaining portion of the applicable Atom Warranty will continue to apply in accordance with its terms.

Note: Design life refers to the average period a product is engineered to operate before reaching the end of its economical service life under normal operating conditions.

The below warranty example is for illustrative purposes only.

In use warranty hours	22,000 hours (with a maximum daily operation of 12 hours)
Total Warranty Period	5 Years with the first 2 years covered as on-site service.
	Or
	3 years, for example, if that is the period of time that it took for the product to reach 22,000 hours of operation using the product up to 12 hours a day

Once we have inspected the Atom Products claimed, we will determine the warranty claim in a timely manner and advise you whether the product is covered by this warranty.

In determining your warranty claim, we reserve the right to determine (in our sole discretion) whether:

- This warranty applies to the Atom Products and/or defect claimed;
- You have followed directions from EVOLT, applicable industry standards, the manufacturer's instructions and any other instructions provided for the Atom Products; and

- c) Any exclusions apply to the Atom Products.

4. REMEDY

If special knowledge is required to dismantle and reassemble a defective Atom Products, EVOLT must complete the dismantling or reassembly process. For example, any high-level emergency luminaires under warranty will be removed by the installing contractor for repair/replacement by EVOLT's on-site representatives.

If special knowledge is not required, then EVOLT is deemed to have fulfilled its obligations to remedy a defect under this Warranty when:

- a) a duly repaired or replaced Atom/Atom Air Product or part is delivered to You or collected by You; or
- b) a whole or part refund is issued to You, whichever is applicable.

All on-site work will be carried out between the hours of 6am – 6pm Monday to Friday (excluding public holidays). Work that is required to be done outside these hours will attract after hours charges at rates EVOLT publishes or advises from time to time.

To carry out on-site warranty work, you must:

Failure to provide this access may result in charges relating to the time incurred waiting for clear access. Such charges are at rates that EVOLT publishes or advises from time to time;
- b) Supply a suitably experienced representative with detailed knowledge of the site to meet our on-site representatives and installers and be available for assistance at all times that we reasonably require; and
- c) Supply any special lifting equipment required to access Atom Products not accessible with a 2 metre step ladder.

Defective Atom Products which have been replaced under one of the EVOLT warranties are our property and you must make them available to us for collection.

5. COSTS OF THE CLAIM

A. Costs that EVOLT is responsible for

EVOLT will bear all warranty expenses that you incur to claim under this warranty, provided that:

- a) the warranty claim is for an eligible defect or defective Atom Products under the terms and conditions of this warranty;
- b) the warranty is given on an 'on-site' basis;
- c) Where applicable, labour or service requests are submitted with the warranty claim and approved by EVOLT.

Where enhanced or on-site service arrangements apply, labour contributions are subject to eligibility, acceptance of the claim, and any published labour allowance rates applicable at the time of the claim.

To claim warranty expenses under this warranty, you must submit your proof of purchase (such as receipt) to EVOLT at mailing address Unit 2C, 40 Barracks Road, Wacol QLD 4076 or email address at sales@evolt.com.au.

B. Costs that You are responsible for

Unless we agree otherwise in writing, you are responsible for the following warranty costs:

- a) Costs associated with inspecting, delivering, collecting or remedying an Atom Products that is covered by a 'return-to-base' warranty;

- b) Costs to inspect, deliver or collect an Atom Products that we determine is not eligible for remedy under the terms and conditions of this warranty;

All other costs associated with making a claim under one of the EVOLT warranties must be borne by you.

6. WARRANTY PERIOD FOR REPAIRS OR REPLACEMENTS

When we remedy a defective Atom Products under this warranty, the warranty period does not extend or restart. The warranty period that applies to a repaired or replacement product continues for the time that the Atom Products would have had remaining under the original warranty term.

Working example: If EVOLT replaced an Atom Product covered by a 5-year warranty period and did so with 6 months remaining on the warranty period, then the replacement product would not restart the 5-year warranty term. The replacement product would be covered for the 6 months left remaining on the original warranty term.
